WOEIH Podcast #1

Purpose of this podcast: to get to the root causal factors of the problems that humanity is experiencing. To strike at the very root of these problems. To understand the nature of these problems so we can go to work solving them.

What is truth? Truth is that which is. What has undergone the process of actually occurring. Events actually take place both within us and around us.

Truth isn't about understanding the mind of God or anything so extremely esoteric. We can come to an understanding of that which actually occurs.

Truth is intricately related to the problem of why we experience suffering in our world. We as a whole have gone off the path of truth. We are engaged in delusion, fundamental axioms that we take as true but which fundamentally are not true. When we stay attached to false axioms we suffer. Axiom: a statement or proposition that is regarded as having already been established. Something that is taken as true.

Self-knowledge is the way out of the mess we are in.

Get into human consciousness and how it works. What are the qualities of consciousness? How does consciousness manifest? Expression of consciousness through physiology. How does the human brain work?

There are only 2 ways people can be fooled: 1) they believe that which is not true or 2) they refuse to accept that which is true.

Goebbels: "the bigger the lie, the more it will be believed"

Delphi Oracle: "Heed these words: you who wish to probe the depths of nature, if you do not find in yourself that which you seek, neither will you find it outside yourself. If you ignore the wonders of your own house, how do you expect to find other wonders. In you is hidden the treasure of treasures. Know thyself and you will know the universe and the gods."

Our reality is self-similar across scales. It is fractal in nature. Therefore, if you understand the individual nature of the universe, you understand the whole of nature.

People have lost the idea that truth is valuable, that it means something in relationship to the experience of their lives, that it dictates the quality of that which they experience.

When we are in alignment with what is, and we speak the truth and live according to truth, then the quality of our experience improves and we don't suffer.

Just like gravity is a law of nature, so is natural spiritual law. It doesn't matter if you believe in it. You are going to suffer in relation to the amount you ignore that law.

What is the difference between nescience and ignorance? Nescience means not knowing or not understanding that which you wouldn't be reasonably expected to know or understand. Ignorance is deliberately turning aside from something that you can be reasonably expected to know or understand.

Solipsism: The biggest lie. One of the most fundamental ideologies in the Western world. Solipsism is so prevalent and so insidious, it is the main deception in the world. Social engineers want people to unwittingly become solipsists. Solipsism is: the philosophical notion that one's own mind is all that exists, and one's perceptions are equated to reality and truth.

This ideology is put out there to dissuade people from ever really stepping onto the spiritual path. If you can convince someone that it's all relative, then you have them where you want them to be able to manipulate their sense of reality.

Basic tenets of solipsism: 1) No such thing as truth. There is no reality. It's all individual perception. If your mind ceases to exist, then reality ceases to exist, and therefore nothing really matters

2) No such thing as knowledge. Even if something exists, nothing can actually be known about it.

3) Even if something could be known about anything, you can not communicate that to anyone else.

The awakening process takes one leap of faith, and that is you must initially believe that there is truth to be found on the journey.

Our goal in life is to bring our perceptions into harmony with truth, so that we're not constantly engaged in fantasy, that we're not ignoring that which is going on in and around us.

Align thoughts, emotions, and actions. We can't do this until we understand ourselves, our consciousness.

Occult means Hidden. Latin Oculare. It has no inherent connotation as far as good/evil.

Get into the meaning of words and how words control people.

What is the difference between understanding and wisdom? Knowledge vs. properly applied knowledge.

What are you going to do with what you know?

The most powerful agency in the universe is the human voice. The greatest gift we have ever been given.

The manipulators of this world are using their voices 24/7, for deception. How will you use yours?

No topics are going to be considered taboo on this show. There is no such thing as negative information. One of the worst things we can do is refuse to engage the truth no matter how ugly it is. We must face harsh truths about ourselves. Look into the heart of darkness. This show will lead us through a process of self examination.

What is consciousness? It's the solution to the problems we face as a species. If we don't have consciousness, we are wandering in the dark, in base levels of awareness, not knowing what is true or false.

Every problem contains within itself the seed of its own solution.

Consciousness: our ability to recognize patterns and meaning that are going on with respect to the events that are taking place. "Why" must be addressed all the time.

Consciousness can be raised through knowledge, or manipulated through knowledge (mind control).

Mass mind control is based on programming fundamental axioms into people. Mind control is a multifaceted technique. Works mainly through words. Neuro-linguistic programming.

Symbolism - an archetypal language - if we don't understand the building blocks and syntax then we are vulnerable to its manipulation on a subconscious level.

Two basic ways that consciousness breaks down and manifests: internal feminine manifestation, and external masculine manifestation. Not opposites, they dance in an embrace with each other.

Taoism: yin / yang.

Kabbalah: mercy / severity.

Freemasonry: boaz / jachin.

Cosmos: moon / sun.

Feminine: internal, feminine, passive, intuitive, compassionate, submissive, right brain

Masculine: external, masculine, dominant, analytical, logical, left brain

Feminine, lunar qualities are related to our emotions, the internal aspect of our consciousness

Masculine, solar qualities are related to our actions, the external aspect of consciousness

We must strive to bring these two qualities in balance with each other. As we feel so we take action.

If we take action we feel to be immoral, we are in opposition with ourselves.

There is a solution for every problem. Find enough information about the core nature of the problem.

The problem we face is that we don't know enough about how human consciousness works. This is a manipulator's dream.

We must be masters of our consciousness. The chessmaster isn't on the gameboard floor, he's at a higher level. Most people are pawns and don't even know it.

There is one ocean of consciousness we are all part of. Monad: individual unit of consciousness.

Threefold nature to human consciousness in an individual: thoughts, emotions, and actions.

1) Thoughts: the primary expression/essence of consciousness. A thought is an emanation. Not male or female, they just are. Our creator "father" aspect. The universe itself is mental. It is comprised of thought energy.

2) Emotions: The second aspect of consciousness as it manifests in our consciousness. Internal. The ways we express ourselves within our own bodies. Thoughts come in, and then become expressed through our physiology as emotions. The sacred feminine, divine mother aspect. The "spirit" with which we do things.

3) Actions: The third aspect of consciousness. What we actually do with what we know and what we feel. Thoughts and emotions create a synthesis that manifests as behavior. The "child" of our thoughts and emotions.

Holy trinity: Father, holy spirit, and son

The law of three, or the triune aspect of human consciousness. Triune = three in one.

Human brain is part of the discovery of self. But do we know the components of the brain?

Basic structures of the brain:

1) oldest, simplest, and lowest part of the brain: Brain stem and cerebellum. R complex. Reptilian complex. Governs motor skills, fight or flight mechanism. When we are physically stressed, blood is sent away from torso and head to the extremities so we can run or fight. Most of our days we are stressed and therefore living in the R complex.

2) Next part of the brain to evolve: Mammal brain, Limbic system, or "middle chamber". Governs the chemical interactions through which we experience emotions. Sacred feminine, internal aspect of consciousness. Reptiles don't experience emotions the way mammals do. Crocodiles are largely creatures of instincts. You can see a chimpanzee become sad.

3) Last part of brain to evolve: Human brain, neo-cortex, telencephalon, "gray matter". Governs all higher order thinking. Bilaterally symmetrical: left/right, male/female, analysis/intuition, yang/yin, active/passive.

The brain reflects the triune nature of consciousness. Thoughts, emotions, actions : reptile, limbic, human brain. If we have a balanced neo-cortex, one side doesn't dominate another, we become a person that is capable of higher order thought, conceptual thinking, and reasonable behavior. The human brain is the most advanced super computer we will ever utilize and it's sitting right behind our eyes.

The limbic part of the brain is always trying to send data upwards to the higher part. Neo cortex will send instructions back down to the R complex so our body can take action.

What happens when our brain is imbalanced? When we're constantly in the reptile brain? When we are too in our emotions? Or when we are left or right-brain dominant? We are easily manipulated.

WOEIH Podcast #2

Recap of last show: What is Truth? Quality of our lives is dictated by how much we harmonize with what is.

When we sway off the path of truth, we suffer. This is how Natural Law works.

In order to problem solve, we need enough information about the causal problems. Look at the darkness.

Our ability to tell truth from falsehood is the most critical capability humans possess in regards to what we experience and the quality of our experience.

We are a reflection of the whole, of the universe itself. Accurate knowledge of self is accurate knowledge of the universe.

Brain anatomy is threefold. Reptile brain - fight or flight, stress / Mammal brain - limbic system, emotion center / Human brain - neocortex. Responsible for higher order, conceptual thinking, reason, compassion, logic, creativity, language, science, art.

Neocortex has two hemispheres. Bi-laterally symmetrical. Left side is male - logic, science, language, analytical. Right side is feminine - holistic thought function, intuitive, nurturing, creativity.

Neither hemisphere should dominate the other. The key to a high functioning brain is balance. The two parts of the brain are not really separate. Corpus callosum sends information back and forth between two hemispheres.

Left brain dominance largely engages the physical world, neglects spiritual and creative endeavors. Left brain dominance will destabilize the neocortex - It will not act as the executive command center of the whole brain. When Left brain becomes completely dominant, neocortex is destabilized and damaged, the limbic system suffers the most, and the person becomes governed by the reptilian brain.

When right brain dominates, person is in a high state of mind, never rooted or grounded to the physical world, lives for basic pleasures, don't want to engage problems. Limbic/emotional part of the brain runs haywire.

Right brain imbalance makes one become passive. Left brain imbalance creates aggressiveness.

What qualities and worldviews come into being when one of these imbalances occurs?

Left brain imbalance people become dominators / Master mentality. They want to control others, are often aggressive. They gravitate towards atheism and moral relativism.

Right brain imbalance acquires slave mentality. Unworthiness, self loathing. Oftentimes addiction creeps in, they become order followers.

When a person's brain is harmonized, they are neither master nor slave. They are in dominion. Self ownership, self rulership. As they think, so they feel, so they act in unison.

Pineal gland activates higher levels of awareness, but only comes online when male and female sides of the brain are in balance.

When this state of consciousness is opened up through balancing the brain hemispheres, higher states of awareness of what is happening inside and outside one's self awaken.

Pineal gland is in the middle chamber, part of the limbic brain with hypothalamus, hippocampus, amygdala, pituitary gland

Upward pointing triangle (blade) = male, yang. Downward pointing triangle (chalice) = female, yin.

Two triangles together = 6 sided star AKA the Seal of Solomon. Sol / Mon = Sun / Moon. Harmony of two sides of the brain.

The control of energy and resources is the control of people. What Tesla discovered is that we don't have to have scarcity and lack-based energy system because free energy exists.

Taking energy from the sun which is stored in the earth's ionosphere, bringing down through a transceiver and can be directed to whole regions of the earth.

The federal reserve prevented the free energy industry from happening.

How does a scarcity mindset affect the consciousness of people? Roots people in fear, in the R complex.

As long as the paycheck is flowing, police follow orders and will ignore morality.

The biggest lie: solipsism, the philosophical notion that one's own mind is all that exists, and one's perceptions are equated to reality and truth. So many people subscribe to the ideology of solipsism.

If you don't believe there are actual events that take place and they can be known, then there's really no helping you. You need to use your will to come out of that state of mind. There is such a thing as truth.

Truth is that which has undergone the formality of having actually taken place in the world. It's not up for debate.

Whether we discover truth is a whole different story. The first and only prerequisite leap of faith that must be taken on the spiritual journey. There is no other belief or faith required on the spiritual journey. In darker occult movements, the solipsists are referred to as "the dead" or "the unbegun." Dark occultists want people to be solipsists.

Atheism goes hand in hand with solipsism.

If one thinks there is no such thing as truth, one invariably is led to moral relativism.

If an individual gets to determine what truth is, they will determine what morals are. Truth and morals are based in the perceptions of the beholder? Nonsense! This is why immorality runs rampant in the world. Moral relativism is the beginning of the slide down into total tyranny. If there's no such thing as right and wrong, nothing really matters. Social darwinism. Higher class of society has the right to rule over lower classes.

Eugenics: killing people based on a subjective assessment of the worth of other people.

WOEIH Podcast #3

Trying to get down to causal factors. That's what this show is about. Many shows reveal and discuss symptoms that take place but do not identify causal factors.

Two basic ways humans are fooled and therefore suffer: Accepting what is not true and refusing to accept what is true. There is such a thing as truth.

What is creating our condition? The ability to tell truth from falsehood.

Solipsism is the belief that there is no such thing as objective truth, that perception is reality. Many people's worldview is based in solipsism.

Polarity - Are hot and cold really opposites? No, they are measures of the same dynamic, heat energy. Our perception is polar. Dark and light really opposites? No, dark is just the absence of light. There is always only one thing contained within these seeming polar opposites. The other thing is the illusory component, really isn't there but we see it as being there based on comparison.

There are two basic forces/emanations/essences at work within us which take different forms. These things can't be boiled down much further. They are primary things.

The two basic emotional polarities: the essence of everything we perceive or feel as "good" is love. Not the Hollywood version of love, not based on attachment or possession.

Love is the force that expands consciousness.

The opposite emotional polarity from love, that closes awareness down, that makes one not want to seek, makes one not want to understand or care or act, is fear. Fear is the force that closes down consciousness.

These two basic emotional polarities each have internal and external manifestations.

How does the love force manifest internally? Self love, enlightenment, balance, peace, when we align our thoughts, emotions, and actions such that there is no contradiction in our consciousness.

Thoughts are the creator aspect (father). What we create must first exist as a thought.

Emotions are the internal manifestation (holy spirit) of ideas. The spirit, sacred feminine, goddess aspect.

Actions are the male child (son) of our thoughts and emotions.

As we think, so we feel, and so we act. Doing this requires an immense amount of courage.

Opposition = shatan in hebrew. Derivative of modern word Satan. That which divides, which opposes.

Dominion is a state of the expression of love when it comes to fruition inside an individual. Rulership over the kingdom of self. AKA mastery AKA self ownership AKA sovereignty. Sov reign = self reign.

This show is ultimately all about sovereignty.

The only way to achieve this is to align our thoughts, emotions, and actions.

When this condition is not present, the state of mind that takes over is confusion. Internal disharmony, the state of consciousness being closed down. Someone in this condition is not capable of knowing truth from falsehood. They don't even know what's going on inside themselves, how can they know what's going on outside. Their psychological condition is frail and weak. They are led. Confusion is the internal manifestation of fear.

What do these things create externally? When love is present and has grown, the state that comes online is freedom. Freedom is the external manifestation of the love force. This can only occur when enough of the individual consciousnesses come within themselves to a state of dominion.

The external manifestation of the force of fear is control. People controlling the actions of other people, even if they're not doing anything to harm other people. Ultimately control leads to slavery. Caller asks about spirituality/politics?

The reason our world is in the state it is in is because people haven't linked spirituality and "politics" or the world of control. Beings believe they have authority over other sovereign beings.

A lot of the spiritual movements are largely traps. They take people up to a certain understanding and have them pitch tents.

Women have a better ability to integrate their feelings and rationality into who they are. In general there is a schism between the sexes. Women are more connected to their right brain in general.

The ego is a tool used for the individual expression of one's unique consciousness.

What the ego has done has said i'm the ruler of the house

Worldview: how do we view the world that we live in? This is the driving factor in what we create in the world. What we think about is what we become . the worldview we hold shapes the events that manifest in our lives.

Worldview schism - two polar worldviews based on unbalanced sides of the brain.

WOEIH Podcast #4

Recap: what is truth and why is it important? Coming into harmony with what IS is what consciousness is all about. When we do that we are building a world of order and freedom. When we get out of alignment with truth, when we start to use poisoned worldviews, it leads to disorder, chaos, and further states of fear and control.

Aspects of human consciousness, how we manifest consciousness in the world through thoughts, emotions, and actions. Brain imbalances lead to certain stages of consciousness.

The ability to tell truth from falsehood is the underlying factor to everything we see play out.

The underlying philosophy of every totalitarian regime is solipsism. The belief that there is no such thing as objective truth, that only our perceptions exist.

Every dictator/tyrant/bully has promoted solipsism to their subjects (slaves).

Study history and this underlying ideological thread with come to light.

Emotional polarities: love and fear. Everything else is an outgrowth of one of these seemingly polar dynamics.

Love is the force that expands consciousness. Fear shuts down, contracts human consciousness. Fear can only ever lead to chaos.

When we come into harmony with love, we experience sovereignty or dominion. As one thinks, so one feels/acts.

When one is imbalanced, does not align thoughts/emotions/actions, there is confusion.

When the internal dynamic of love is expressed outwardly in the world, freedom results.

When the internal dynamic of fear is expressed outwardly in the world, control exists.

Wanting order with more control is like trying to dry your clothes with more water. It doesn't work that way.

This isn't a belief, this is fact.

You need a firm grasp in the polarities of love and fear, and what they create: freedom and control.

Worldview and worldview schism: there are basically two extremely imbalanced, competing worldviews in the world. Two poles of the spectrum - Randomness vs Determinism

Both worldviews are based in fear and both lead to disorder, control, and chaos. Randomness and Determinism.

Both based in the illusion of the emotional polarity that we call fear. An illusory state.

The fear dynamic exists only because we choose illusion and we choose to ignore that which is.

Left brain rules: masculine energy, logic, scientific mathematical thought, language, analytical thought, the ability to break down concepts.

Right brain rules: Intuition, holistic thought, feminine nurturing instinct, connection with high levels of spiritual awareness, love principle, creativity, music, art, dance.

A person in left brain consciousness only, can become very brilliant. Many scientists, doctors, lawyers are in this state and do not have a very developed right brain. Lives in a five sensory worldview.

Extreme left brain imbalanced worldview is called Randomness. Characteristics include: they think the universe is a grand accident, there is no underlying intelligence in nature, natural law does not exist, existence is purposeless. hallmarks of atheism and scientism. Existential, solipsistic, and scientismic.

Scientism: science can prove everything and everything can be explained by five senses.

Modern cosmology says the universe exploded out of nothing in one instant, and that it's a huge dead machine.

This is old, outdated science. Twisted form of old, newtonian science. Soviet education system pushes the left brain notion, and reinforced through the media and old science. Scientists at the cutting edge have actually proven this notion wrong with repeated scientific testing and observation. Science is beginning to incorporate consciousness and intelligent design into its work and findings. What does this extreme left brain, solipsistic, atheistic worldview of randomness inevitably lead to?

Moral relativism. No such thing as right or wrong. Leads to social darwinism, the ideology of the "elites" that is running this world. They also believe the fittest is governed by genetics. This leads to eugenics - deciding who is allowed to live and who must die - aka playing God.

Extreme right brain imbalanced worldview is called Determinism. Characteristics include: the belief that God controls every event in creation, all occurrences are preordained, free will does not exist, change is impossible and action is meaningless. Hallmarks of religious extremism.

Both worldviews are complete bunk. Not one of them holds worthwhile information that leads to our evolution or leads to higher consciousness. Both ideologies and their core beliefs are based in fear, and can therefore never lead to anything good, never lead to peace, harmony, or freedom.

People will say they want freedom, but have an underlying ideology that prevents the ability to create freedom.

These are belief systems - not based in truth and natural law.

"There's my side of the story, there's your side of the story, and then there's the truth." The truth isn't schism, it's unity. It doesn't lean left or right, it's harmony.

Truth is actually a combination of two principles that each side rejects: Natural Law AND free will..

The universe behaves like a mirror and reflects back to you the energy you put out.

This mirror works on two basic seemingly opposite principles coming together to form a synthesis in which we, operating within natural law boundaries, get to determine what our experience will be based on our choice between the dynamics of love and fear.

Natural Law principle is the deterministic component of reality. Free will is the randomness component of our reality.

Natural law was put there by an underlying intelligence. Nobody can actually coerce anyone to think or do anything because we have free will.

This is discovered through an elevation in consciousness. Not a belief.

The point is to bring our free will into harmony with natural law. When we do that there will be order, peace, harmony, enlightenment, and freedom. If we don't we will go around the wheel of suffering forever.

Conversation with Darrell Rowlands:

End the fed: we need to look at and understand the Federal Reserve.

Left/Right paradigm is the hegelian dialectic. Problem, reaction, solution. Presentation of a false choice where the goal is already predetermined. 9/11 was also an example of the hegelian dialectic. So many rabbit holes: Police state, foreknowledge of 9/11, Israeli spies, pentagon anomalies, WTC explosion evidence, big brother control grid, Zionism, OK City bombing, CIA drug running, illuminati bloodlines, media corruption,

Later topics build on pre-requisite knowledge of how the mind works. This podcast is a tapestry.

If we don't understand basic things about consciousness, we won't be able to understand how we're being manipulated. Social engineers know how to use their consciousness, and feel that since the public doesn't, they are basically slaves. Power differential. Underlying ideology of a sorcerer.

If a person comes into knowledge and recognizes that not everybody has the knowledge and wishes to lift up others and help them. Seeing oneself in a unified way with others. Don't want an advantage - the desire is to bring balance by teaching and uplifting others. This is the ideology of a true alchemist.

Knowledge does not belong to anyone, knowledge belongs to the world.

Dissociation: a state of acute mental decompensation in which certain thoughts, sensations, emotions. and/or memories are compartmentalized because they're too overwhelming for the conscious mind to integrate.

Cognitive dissonance: This state of mental dissociation has to do with the attachment to a fundamentally flawed worldview and being presented with information that contradicts what you believe.

Terribly flawed worldviews: "The world has always been at war and that's the way it has to be"
"Humanity destroying itself is common. Just worry about bettering yourself, not others."

Mark: I don't want followers. I don't want to be a puppet master. I want to live my life in harmony with natural law principles, go higher up in consciousness and understanding, and essentially be left alone so long as I don't harm anybody else. I want others to do the same, to come into their own understanding and freedom.

I'm not your leader, I'm not your guru. Do not look outside of yourself for the leader. Think for yourself, take in information from as many sources as possible, make up your own mind with an open mind, and lead yourself. Your life is your own, what you do with it is up to you.

On 9/11: Did you know that it's physically impossible for a steel-framed skyscraper to fall at free-fall speed straight down into the path of greatest resistance without the use of high powered explosives to destroy all the load bearing supports simultaneously? The government official story violates Newton's conservation of momentum law. And it happened 3 times in one day.

End the Fed rally in Philadelphia recap

Mark was asked to speak at the event outside the Fed building on Saturday April 24, 2010

Overall the event was great. Lots of information was distributed.

Don't make the mistake that since you understand certain things, everybody else does too.

Keep hammering away the fact that these things affect our lives at a fundamental level.

What kind of consciousness really drives an institution like the Federal Reserve?

People in general, through their weaknesses, feed institutions like this.

Paraphrase of the speech that was read at the rally:

Thanks for standing together united in the spirit of courage to defend liberty. Shining light on the corrupt and immoral institution that lies at the core of the destruction of our natural rights and freedoms.

Vernon Howard: "human sickness is so severe that few can bear to look at it, but those who do will become well."

Owners and directors of Federal Reserve have lack of conscience and empathy. Cunning, adept at manipulating others. Immoral and criminal conduct. Same conditions that describe psychopaths. Condition of psychopathy is at the very root of the crisis that humans find ourselves. More prevalent than most prefer to admit. Psychopathy is NOT human nature. Psychopathy is not just a psychological disorder - it is a learned behavior and a communicable disease.

One of the greatest skills of psychopaths is their ability to feign normal skills and empathy, which enables them to be hidden amongst the rest of society. Good works are done in the light of day for all to see. In contrast, the work of psychopaths is done under the cover of darkness. For once enough light is cast in their direction, psychopaths always scatter.

Psychopaths create problems in their communities then step in as saviors with self-serving solutions. The main goal of a psychopath is to make others feel as fearful and empty as they do. To that aim, their greatest weapon is the propagation of their own twisted worldview, one based in fear, lack, greed, separation, and control.

Most of us fall for mind control when we worship money, greed, and selfishness, when we remain uneducated and uneducated, when we refuse to educate ourselves or our young in respect to higher moral paths in life, yet we continue to teach our young that monetary value is the key indicator of self worth. As a whole, we the people of this once free nation, are the enablers of the very psychopaths that dominate and control us. Many of us have become totally callous of the usurpation of the rights of human beings.

I disagree with most psychologists conclusions that there is no cure for psychopathy.

We are the immune system response for this virus that has infected the minds and hearts of human beings. We are here to bring healing to the diseased condition of our nation and our world. The prescriptions for healing this sickness are: recognition, respect, responsibility, and reconciliation.

Recognition: to become aware by searching. What is the FR and how do they control our lives?

Respect: to look at again. We must look at ourselves, and what we have willingly allowed ourselves to be used for. Am I really doing the right thing? Only self respect can help us develop true responsibility.

Responsibility: our ability to respond in the correct moral ways to any problem that may be facing us.

Reconciliation: to move toward each other again. We must reverse our movement toward separation. Create collective courage to withdraw from the poisonous influence of psychopathic institutions.

Refuse to be like psychopaths in any way. Recognize there is a better way to treat each other in truth, love, and freedom. Let go of our fear of lack, our fear of losing control, our fear of the unknown.

Why are we experiencing what we're experiencing? Until we make a solid assessment of the causal factors about how we are fooled, why we suffer, why we lack the ability to tell truth from falsehood and right from wrong, we're not going to make a lot of headway toward solutions. This program is about solutions.

Why have the human mind and heart fallen into the diseased condition they have? To that effect, we've been discussing human consciousness. What are the ways that consciousness manifests itself?

Thought, emotions, and actions - to bring into alignment so that we are not in eternal contradiction. Bring our thoughts to a state of intelligence, emotions to a state of care, and our will to act in proper morality.

Widening our worldview to see all who are suffering. As long as anyone in the world is suffering, we are suffering.

Human brain and imbalance. What attitudes and behaviors manifest when the hemispheres are imbalanced?

Ask the alchemical question - "what ails thee, brother/sister?"

There is an ability to bring healing to the world. Understand causal factors, care enough to do the work, and take action. Get over your fears. Have courage to stand up to evil.

Recap of previous weeks:

Love is the force that expands consciousness. Fear is the force that limits, kills consciousness.

Internal/external expressions of love and fear. Sovereignty/freedom, and confusion/slavery.

Left brain imbalanced worldview is randomness - No law of karma, existence has no higher purpose.

Atheism.

Right brain imbalance worldview is determinism - no free will, God controls everything. Religious extremism.

The truth lies in the synthesis of these two sides of the spectrum. Natural Law and free will are both in effect.

At the top of a list of values, how many people would put the word Truth? Not many, probably.

Going to cover two concepts that people think are fictional but are very real: Magic and Sorcery.

These concepts are real and very much at work in our world.

Self Realization. Why are there so few people who are self realized? What are the barriers to self realization?

Magic is the science and art of influencing change to occur in accordance with the Will.

People who are trapped in left brain thinking, when you bring up a word that they've already attached and assigned a meaning to, can't accept the differing concept.

Magic IS a Science - there are established methodologies that are repeatable.

Magic IS an artform - there are subtleties to it. If you are practiced, you will become better.

To influence change to occur - Not actually making the change, only influencing.

In accordance with the Will - the biggest part of the definition of Magic.

Sorcery is the exact opposite of the definition of magic.

Sorcery is the science and art of influencing change to occur in accordance with the will.

What is the difference between Will and will? Lowercase will is the self centered will of the practitioner.

Uppercase Will is something whole volumes and books have been written on. Universal Will.

Will could be used interchangeably with Natural Law Principles. Understanding how creation works.

The creation's Will does not interfere with free will.

There is a time lag between when we take an action and when we experience the result of the action.

In quantum theory, the less complex the situation is, the quicker you see the effect.

At a macro level, there is a lag. The universe needs time to orchestrate, in a certain level of complexity, the events that would be needed to actually make the balance that is needed occur, when we choose actions.

Real world example: On the surface of the Earth, gravity is always in effect. The effect of gravity can be seen and belief is not required for it to function the way it does.

Natural law: Tendencies for events to occur based on free will decisions.

We are here to influence people's minds, hearts, and behaviors to come into greater harmony with higher moral law

If we continue to not do this work, if we continue to ignore Will, we will always get a negative result.

If there was a being who didn't understand how gravity worked, are you, as someone who does understand it, under any responsibility to explain the law to that person?

Are you responsible for physically stopping that person from harming themselves?

The idea of magic is to try to influence people such that they learn from others' mistakes and don't have to go through a painful experience. This type of influence is possible if we are willing to do it. What do we need to be willing to become a magician / alchemist? We must understand Natural Law, what kind of energies we are putting out there through our consciousness, and what that's going to create.

Cause and Effect (The Law of Attraction, Law of Karma). The universe behaves as a mirror, as a reflector to what's happening within us. Uni = one, Versare = to change or to turn.

All the things people say they want in life (peace, harmony, freedom, and happiness) will manifest if we live in accordance with natural law, if we think, feel, and act in accordance with the Will.

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Where we are (decaying state of human freedom) is directly related to decaying state of alignment with morality.

Ultimate goal of magic is the state of nondualism. Nondualism = The understanding in consciousness that we are not separate. The higher aspects of ourselves are all aspects of this one universal creative energy. AKA the Underlying ordering intelligence that is inherent to existence AKA God. If you hurt someone else you're hurting yourself. Nondualism with oneself is the first key concept to be a true magician/chemist.

Our society has been so against natural law, that the sorcerers have learned how to insulate themselves from the effects. These sorcerers have minions who carry out the negative actions so that karma falls upon them instead.

Where do parking meter attendants come from? Parking meter enforcement is a parasitic activity.

Probably they know that what they're doing isn't right and isn't moral, and therefore lie to others about it. This is why we don't know anyone who knows a meter maid.

To achieve nondualism there is a science known as Alchemy. The alchemical turning of materials into precious metals is an allegory (a story told to illustrate a moral principle). An Alchemist takes base consciousness and influences it upward to a higher level of consciousness. Lead into gold is a metaphor for base consciousness, untruths, and selfishness transmuting upwards into enlightenment, truth, and morality.

The alchemist can't make change happen in someone else, they can only influence it.

The sorcerers goal is to do the exact opposite of the magician. The sorcerer's goal is to create internal and external opposition, to create disharmony, to tear someone apart from within themselves, to get someone else to take actions they know are morally wrong.

The force of Satan (Sha-tan), Hebrew for the adversary, the one who brings opposition to the self

The only way they can do this is to use the vehicle/tools of illusion, manipulation, and deception.

WOEIH Podcast #6

Recap of previous show: Magic and Sorcery (as they relate to Order and Chaos)

If we're not in a position to understand, address, and then move toward correcting the things that are responsible for creating our experience, then ultimately we're powerless to solve them.

What the base causal factor of our suffering is, is the ability to tell truth from falsehood.

Solipsism is a poisonous ideology. Until we come out of this mindset, humanity will suffer.

Polarities/forces that shape our reality: Love and Fear. Love expands consciousness, fear contracts.

Internal and external manifestations of Love and Fear

Dominion or sovereignty (internal manifestation of love): in control of our thoughts, emotions, and actions.

Confusion or opposition (internal manifestation of fear): thoughts, emotions, actions are misaligned.

Slavery (external manifestation of fear): chaos exists. People controlling others, slavery.

Freedom (external manifestation of love): no masters no slaves, true moral anarchy.

Randomness vs Determinism (worldview schism): holding an extreme worldview leads to suffering.

“I was wrong” are the three magical words that begin all spiritual journeys.

Externally imposed control is going to be with us on earth until we come out of the consciousness of separation.

As long as we are in the mindset that others may suffer for our gain, nothing is going to change for the better.

Cosmic law exists.

The reason we're in the mess we are as a species is because we refuse to acknowledge the existence of natural law. The truth is always simple. It's never ever complex. People try to make truth complex to obscure it. The law that governs creation can be summed up in one sentence: Do unto others as you would have others do unto you.

Is the golden rule an arbitrary assertion? Or is there actually a universal moral truth in effect?

Don't be a solipsist, don't be a moral relativist. Moral relativists think they are the arbiters of truth.

Man's law is based on the ideology of moral relativism and that's why it's such a disaster. We are not the arbiters of truth.

Gnosis: not thinking or believing, but knowing because one has directly experienced something.

If you shun knowledge because it's not convenient you will suffer. More often than not, this is where we are as a species.

We must understand how these laws work - that's the way out - through understanding how we got here.

There IS such a thing as right and wrong. Choose high moral ground over the lower one. The higher road is simple but it is not always easy.

The perception of what is moral can go as haywire as a Nazi during the 3rd Reich believing that what he was doing in the service of the regime was morally justified and correct. That will never make it so.

There's a big difference between what people think is right and what IS right. To exercise our rights is to stand within moral right.

Will = the will of creation in accordance with Natural Law principles that create order.

Lowercase 'will' = exercised by sorcerer, for selfish gains, goes against Natural Law principles.

The totality changes when the individual units that comprise a whole change. If we want to change the external reality, we have to change ourselves. We have to change the way we think, we have to change how we act.

Sorcerers, controllers who have a lot of knowledge of how things work use it as an advantage over others. They know this law and bend, not break it. Sorcerers of this world are very adept.

Truth exists. Natural Law principles exist. Morality exists. Deep seated ego is the refusal to accept any of these.

Belief is one of the strongest forces in the world. People so desperately want to cling to their beliefs because it's all they know. To take away their beliefs is to take away their identity.

Do you believe there is such a thing as radical christianity? If a radical Christian shoots up an abortion clinic and you happen to get shot in their crossfire, did you need to believe in their ideology to be affected by that event? No.

What this means is, whether or not you believe in these forces is irrelevant. They can and do still affect you.

“Freedom is waiting for you all to find.”

Sorcerers use occult knowledge against the people of this world. Occult means hidden. Most people think occult means evil. Latin occultare = to hide or conceal from sight
When you tell people there are hidden forces in the world like sorcery, they will reject it out of hand out of disbelief.

The idea that what we don't know can't hurt us is ridiculous and wrong. It doesn't matter what you believe.

As long as we remain ignorant of the forces in the world, we will be powerless to change anything. When we come into alignment with the art of magic, we are attempting to create non-dualism, sovereignty.

Sorcery has run so rampant that we are in a situation of total chaos. People think there is order or is moving towards order. We are moving to a New World Order that is going to be total control and not in a good way.

Build a different New World Order with alchemy, morality, and truth.

The alchemist can never do the work for another, he can only do his own work.

You can only nurture the conditions surrounding the seed.

People are too attached to what they want to believe.

"The essence of propaganda consists in winning people over to an idea so sincerely, so vitally that in the end they succumb to it utterly and can never escape from it." Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi Minister of propaganda

This is ego identification. The attachment to being right. This is the essence of mind control.

Most people do not own themselves. They are wholly owned by minds outside of themselves.

Mind control exists. It is real. There are methodologies for it. The methodologies are known, practiced, and refined.

Modern mind control has been ramped up chemically through food, digitally through media, spiritually through the propagation of the new age movement.

It is a choice whether we suffer or come out of this mess. The choice lies in one fundamental concept: understanding who we really are.

Realization, to see with real eyes. Accurately perceive truth.

The human imagination is suppressed. If you can't even imagine the possibilities of what could be, you're always going to be trapped in what is. Mind control is the extermination of imagination. Things must be imagined before they can be done.

Why can't we see, why don't most people already know who we really are? Why does ignorance abound?

What are the barriers to realization of the true Self.

1. The five sense illusion. 2. Ego identification. 3. The prison of the left brain. 4. Institutionalized belief systems.

Tesla was studying standing waves and lightning, and was developing a system of wireless energy collection from the ionosphere. Solar wind places an immense amount of electricity in our ionosphere. Tapping into the voltage differential between ionosphere and the ground, through Schumann cavity. Tesla demonstrated this principle in a low scale effect. He was building Wardenclyffe tower in Long Island at the turn of the century. Approx 12 of these towers would need to be built around the globe to provide free energy to every corner of the globe.

The five sense illusion: a left brain imbalance idea. The ideology that only that which can be perceived with the senses is real.

People are attached to the idea that matter is completely solid. If you looked at a solid with high enough magnification you will see incredible, seemingly chaotic motion. Matter is not solid, it is only a potential to exist. Only when a decision to observe it is made does it actually form a point particle.

"The observer effect."

Look at frequencies of light and sound. The visible and audible spectra are only minute fractions of the totality of wavelength spectrums.

We have to get out of the attachment that only that which can be perceived with our sense organs is all that exists.

WOEIH Podcast #7

Tesla energy is possible. Free energy worldwide. Tesla was on his way to being able to achieve this. Suppression of information and suppression of information are thwarting the possibility of achieving free energy.

Imagine a world independent of oil.

The control of energy is the control of human beings.

This show is about freedom and it's time for energy to be free.

What prevents people from realizing who they truly are? Higher Self (with a capital S)

The knowledge that is going to get us out of the mess we are trapped in is Self Knowledge.

To understand root causal factors that create suffering we need the ability to tell truth from falsehood.

Falsehood = inaccurate perceptions of reality or outright deception and lies

Solipsism creates moral relativism, not knowing that there is any such thing as right and wrong.

What creates brain imbalances? Prison of the left brain

Love and Fear - love is the expansive force of consciousness, fear is the contracting force.

How do you see yourself in relation to other human beings and the world as a whole? Are you part of a whole or is everything separate?

Magic and Sorcery - the arts and sciences of influence.

Order and chaos - how are they created? Natural Law.

Order is based on the dynamic of awakening consciousness/love energy. Brain balance.

Chaos is rooted in fear and external control of other people.

Four main barriers to Self-realization. These are walls that are erected before we even came into the world.

In essence: The lack of understanding of who and what we really are.

1. The five sense illusion. 2. Ego identification. 3. The prison of the left brain. 4. Institutionalized belief systems.

Mind control. Attachment.

Ego is the inability to say "I was wrong." People refuse to admit when they are wrong when they are attached to things.

We need to do so much more for the mind and consciousness than people think.

Five senses are ways of experiencing reality, ways of experiencing the universe.

Our eyes are biological technologies / receptors for certain frequencies on the light spectrum.

Ears allow us to hear within a certain sound pressure spectrum. Plus smell, touch, and taste.

We get wrapped up in identifying with the frequencies, wavelengths that we can pick up with our sense perception organs. We get wrapped up in the belief that "this is all that exists." and that only those miniscule frequencies within the totality of the frequency ranges that exist, are the only ones that exist.

Matter is completely solid - this is an abstract notion. However it is solid at the macro level at which we experience it. What "solids" are made of are atoms, even to this day we still don't really understand what an atom is. We do know that atoms are upwards of 99.99999% empty space.

Realization = using your real eyes. This is not accidental. The truth is embedded in the language we speak.

When they unplug Neo from his pod and they're rebuilding his muscle, he asks "why do my eyes hurt so much?"

Morpheus answers "because you never used them." Most people are never using their real eyes.

They are seeing things from a skewed perspective that is based in fear and mind control.

Human eye can not perceive ultraviolet frequencies - does that mean those frequencies don't exist? Perception is not reality. Don't let your limited view of reality prevent you from seeing what's possible. Matter is energy that is vibrating at a certain frequency.

Quantum means "amount" in latin. What this word describes is a packet of energy.

"Double Slit Experiment" has been around for 20-30 years. It blew the minds of physicists around the world.

Our choices create what we experience at the large level.

The experiment looks at how matter behaves at a very small level. What is the electron?

If you put one vertical slit through a door or a screen and you shoot paintballs rapidly through the slit, the pattern that you would see on the wall would look like an individual line where the paintballs passed through the slit.

You would also have a huge mess of paint where it hit the screen around the slit.

Now add a second slit next to the other one. You would get a duplicate pattern on the back wall behind the double slit. Now, we use miniscule "particles" like electrons (electron beam, electron volt meter). When they passed electrons through one slit, they got one line. Yet when they used two slits, they got the "interference pattern" that you would get with a wave, not from particles. Crests and troughs of wave vibrations add together and create interference pattern.

Then, they sent one electron at a time through the slits and an interference pattern emerged again.

Thus, at the quantum level matter is not solid.

Add a measuring device to see how many electrons passed through. They are quantifying what is happening at a specific location in space. Once this measuring device was placed, the result of the experiment was changed. Once the measuring device was placed, the electron went from behaving like a wave function to a particle, based merely on the act of observation. Possibilities became collapsed. The electron itself was not a piece of matter until it was set up to be observed. When you remove the electronic measuring device from the slits, and you go back to not knowing how many electrons went through, you got the interference wave again.

Only when consciousness was introduced into the equation do you actually get any solidity/point particle.

What does this mean in consciousness? Until we observe things differently and think about our role in the cosmos differently, we are not going to be working with the availability of potential that we really have and we are going to be collapsing that function, that wave form of potential into something that we do not really want to experience. When we change the way we think we will get different results. Being the observer is what ultimately creates the reality we experience. If your mind isn't blown by this experiment you really didn't understand it.

WOEIH Podcast #8

Barriers to Self-realization. Walls we erect around our own consciousness, blocking us from our true potential.

1) The 5 sense illusion. 2) Ego identification/attachment. 3) the prison of the left brain 4) Attachment to institutionalized belief systems.

Many of our belief systems are corrupt and immoral, keeping us in a prison of consciousness.

The 5 sense illusion is that matter is solid and purely mechanistic, that there's no underlying intelligence in matter.

Double slit experiment explains how matter is pure energy that is a wave form/ wave function.

Matter is a wave potential. Matter is not solid until there's consciousness observing it. What is time?

Quality of our attention.

If we're not paying attention, we're not going to get the desired result. If we shift the quality of our intention, we'll be able to tune into alignment.

Attachment to desire leads to suffering.

Desire isn't bad. Attachment to desire is bad. Desires come and go. Observing their ebb and flow help us detach. Understand your desires and release your attachment to them..

Have a desire for a better world. Then do the things required to bring about fulfil your desire.

How do you spend your time? What we do is collapsing the wave function and bringing those potentials from the void of potentiality, collapsing that into what we get in the present moment.

Quantum wave function. Quant = amount.

Quality of attention collectively spent

We are bound by laws. This is how consciousness creates reality.

Why are we experiencing self inflicted suffering. Because we don't understand how these laws work.

Become conscious co-creators of reality in harmony with the natural laws of nature, that is the main creative force in the universe, the other of which is our own free will. When free will comes into unison with laws of nature then we will be at one with those forces, will be able to practically command them.

Francis Bacon understood these laws. Master rosicrucian. Nature, to be commanded, must first be obeyed.

Know natural law and then come into peace.

What is ego identification? What is ego? Identifying with the roles that we play in life, not understanding the deeper aspects of consciousness but identifying with the lowercase self. "I am a lawyer, I am a student."

Level of Self would say "I am."

Ego attachment is an obsession with our roles. but that's not who we are. That's what we're doing.

Guest Walter Rhodes

Where does ego come from evolutionarily speaking? Ego developed early on as a defense mechanism.

Ego is a tool for the 3 dimensional aspect of self.

It's okay to be attached to things. But if you have no self discipline you have to control over your attachments.

True sovereignty is attained when you separate self and Self.

In an unbroken chain of evolutionary life, there is no death.

Help people alleviate self inflicted suffering.

What really demonstrates the Ego are two aspects: the inability to admit to oneself that one was wrong.

Deeply entrenched ego won't let you say "I was wrong."

Cognitive dissonance = refusal to accept reality.

What is going on in the Gulf of Mexico, our great mother, upon which we rely for our existence is hemorrhaging profusely. The red sheen on top of the waters isnt oil, it's blood.

What makes us think we have the right to take oil from the earth in the quantities we do?

We don't own nature, we are intertwined with nature. Nature isn't there for our exploitation.

High level financiers and those who control natural resources

Deepwater Horizon - Worst ecological disaster in human history - all self inflicted and all unnecessary

Don't forget the occult aspect of this. Is the oil spill purely accidental?

If the event wasn't orchestrated, then it was syncro-mystic, synchronistic mystical connection to how this happened when it happened.

The occult are deeply committed to their numbers, their symbol, ritual, and repetition. This may have been partially deliberate, given knowledge of what dark occultists are capable of.

Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill was on Earth Day, April 20th, 2010, which is in the middle of the Occult Season of Sacrifice, a 40 day time period from March 20 to May 1. Many traditions offered a blood sacrifice during this planting season to ensure a bountiful harvest. Oil Spill was a sacrifice of the Earth goddess. Connected with blood; Oil is the life blood of Earth.

It is not right to extract and burn the blood of the earth like we are. We need a new energy paradigm yesterday.

Likely flow estimate is 70-80,000 barrels / /day. Thats like 10 Exxon Valdez's per day.

Do a lot of people have negative ego attachments that hinders them? What do you do to balance it? Create a positive egoic view? People want good health. Everybody has a physical body. If you can explain what creates good health people are going to naturally want to gravitate toward.

We are up against a constant bombardment of mind control.

Identify your negative ego attachments. First step, like a drug addict, is to recognize and admit you have a problem.

What demonstrates the ego more than anything is:

the inability to admit to the universe "I was wrong."

How hard is it to get people to see their worldviews are wrong?

Teachers defend big education and Christians defend the church even though they are harmful institutions.

Refusal to accept the truth is refusal to accept the self. They're one in the same.

There's always more knowledge to aquire. But theres nothing wrong with admitting what you do know. Ego attachment keeps people thinking they know everything they need to know.

"I was wrong" is one of the most powerful things to utter. Letting go of an old attachment.

"I don't know" is what begins all knowledge.

WOEIH Podcast #9

End the age of oil. The Tesla Science Foundation hosts a 3 day conference highlighting need for a new energy paradigm. Nikola Tesla Energy Independence celebrations 2010 in Philly.

Tesla helped introduce AC current, radio, wireless technology, and many other influential inventions that we take for granted in the modern age. Tesla's vision to bring clean, free energy to the world was blocked by the financial and corporate interests of his time.

We need to transcend the left-brain-only modality that most people are stuck in if we ever want to become truly free as a species. Whether the choices we make are in harmony or discord with Natural Law will determine the level of freedom we experience.

What are the causal factors that lead to the conditions we are experiencing?

The ultimate causal factor that leads to slavish conditions and rampant control is humanity's basic inability to tell truth from falsehood.

Solipsism claims that there is no such thing as truth, that perception is reality. This worldview is a lie; it is how we are fooled and why we suffer.

If we come into harmony with truth, we will not suffer. *to the extent we come into harmony with it.

If we come out of harmony with truth, and live in fantasy and illusion, buy untrue ideas, and then live that way, to the extent we do that is the extent we will suffer.

The threefold nature to consciousness: Thoughts, Emotions, Actions. To come into harmony with truth, these three aspects must be aligned, such that you become a being as you think, so we feel, and so we act. We can not be divided. In-divid-ual. We can not be made to take action that is not in keeping with how we think and feel. This is also known as non-duality, dominion, sovereignty, self ownership, self governance, or self control.

How does the brain work? Brain imbalance will disrupt the higher order thought center of the brain - the neo cortex - and shut down higher order thought functions and ability to accurately tell truth from falsehood. Two basic elementary forces in our lives that shape our reality through our choices: Love and Fear.

These essences are seeming polarities but are not actually opposites, because one is real and one is an illusion. Love is the only one there is, whereas fear is just the absence of love.

Choose love and truth over fear and illusion. If we choose love, we foster dominion in the self and create freedom in external reality, if we choose fear, we go into internal opposition and confusion, and the external manifests as control and enslavement.

This dynamic is chosen often by our worldview, whether you subscribe to randomness, determinism, or a unitary world view. We don't see ourselves and the rest of the world as separate, but one. As one suffers, all suffer.

People who subscribe to randomness say there is no such thing as natural law, that the universe is a cosmic accident. Determinists say that there is no such thing as free will, that everything is preordained. Neither of these are true or balance world views. The universe is a combination of both of these forces. The random component is known as free will, in which we get to choose. It's up to us and essentially random. No one can make us choose, though we can be manipulated and influenced in certain ways.

Free will is one part of the non-dual worldview that sits in the middle of these two opposites.

The other part is the deterministic component which is Natural Law. One must understand Natural Law to understand what creates Order vs what creates Chaos. Good vs Evil. Freedom vs Slavery. Happiness vs Suffering.

Magic is the art and science of influencing change to occur in accordance with the Will.

Sorcery is the art and science of influencing change to occur in accordance with the will.

The Will of creation or the egoic will?

Useless ideologies don't do us any good.

Aquinas on Liberty is one of the most profound understandings of how Natural Law works.

There is true freedom, and then there is the idea of freedom that is put out by the establishment as controlled opposition. Basically baiting people into one's own movement for the purpose only of opposing another movement that happens to be leading. This is how the 2 party system constantly plays on each other. Back and forth, controlled opposition, never true freedom.

We are free to use our free will to come into harmony with NL and thus create order, yet we are also free to choose to ignore or attempt to break NL and thus create a hell for us. This is working whether we are conscious of how that dynamic works or not. The goal is to understand how these principles work so that we can consciously come into harmony with them and become conscious co creators of our reality that we experience.

"In order for America to throw off its internationalist oppressors, a proper understanding of natural human liberty, in the minds and hearts of the American people, is indispensably necessary"

When we use our free will, the only way we can actually create liberty or freedom as an end, is if what we choose with that free will is in harmony with natural law principles.

“Like the intellect, the will is a spiritual faculty. It is that power through which an individual seeks to execute an act or attain to an object proposed to it by the intellect. The object of the will is always the good, and even in the election of evil, it must be proposed to the will under the appearance of good.”

“It is an immutably true principle that human liberty depends entirely on intellectual judgements that conform to reason and the natural law. If a judgment which does not conform to the natural law or to reason, and which is, therefore, objectively false and immoral, is acted upon by the will, then it is a source of grave disorder in society. Exponentially multiply the number of individual immoral acts, and you have a Republic that collapses from moral decay in a short period of time.”

Pure intellect vs wisdom is taught in ancient mystery traditions like Qabalah.

We are in a place of moral decay as a society because we don't see Natural Law.

“Hedonism, i.e., the tyranny of the passions, has no place in the well ordered man.”

The pleasure principle gone awry -- when theres so much suffering on the planet, all we care about is our comfort and our lives.

“Therefore there can be no true liberty in a civilization that enshrines moral relativity”

The false idea that you can do whatever you want as long as it is not illegal is made up, and is at odds with Natural Law.

Our actions fall into two categories - those which we do have the right to take (Rights) and those which we do not have the right to take (Wrongs).

Focus our actions on this planet, on this plane of existence. Be here now. There's no other moment except now - there's no other place except here. Be present.

This is how moral law works - liberty is a property of it. We must unlock it by following true morals.

How do we know true morals? It's built in within us - do no harm.

So many people are ignorant of how moral law works.

The Patriot movement and the Freedom movement do not have a deep enough understanding of this.

Shatter the barriers to Self Realization

5 sense illusion - Matter is a construct for experience. It is a wave function that only becomes solid when consciousness is introduced into the equation (the observer effect / double slit experiment).

Ego Identification and Attachment - Identifying with the roles we play in life

Prison of the Left Brain - unidimensional, time bound way of seeing the world and ourselves in it

Institutionalized Belief Systems -

These barriers are put there by the system, which itself has a consciousness

Left Brain makes it possible for us to experience life in a physical body. Helps us think logically, analytically, and in a linear progression. We wouldn't be able to walk, talk without the left brain. However, leaning too hard on this aspect of consciousness, we become obsessed with materiality, and the limbic brain begins to malfunction and shut down. We feel less.

Our emotions are our internal compass to make sure we're going in the right direction in life.

If we attune ourselves to our moral compass through harmonizing the two brain hemispheres, we engage the midbrain in its proper role as a guidance system. Constant feedback system with the neocortex, the part of the brain we make judgements with.

Right brain is the sacred feminine - intuitive, creative, and nurturing.

Many of us become trapped in the left brain modality through several things, namely.

What we take into ourselves.

- physical matter or food, that our body needs to function.
- information from the education system and society; all media.

The brain is like an empty hard drive. For our first 6 years all we're doing is downloading data to the drive. Once that download stops it's hard to change the software. You have to use Will to get into the source code and change it. We didn't write the source code - it was written by society through what we were exposed to.

Education system stresses and emphasizes the 5 sense illusion. You hear about reading, writing, and arithmetic, but are there classes on morality? No, there would be an uproar. You can't teach children right from wrong.

Are there any classes about how to live in true social harmony, how to respect the rights of others, how to deeply understand what your rights are as a sovereign being? No. You can't breed a controller class this way. The elites are breeding society to stay trapped in the left brain modality of consciousness.

Teach people the goal of life is survival and materialism, to live in fear of lack.

The Left Brain prison fostered by the 5 sense illusion promotes the idea that there is no spiritual nature to human beings. Spirituality is not talked about in schools. Government funded public schools won't touch anything of a non physical nature. Private schools will teach religions but not spirituality. What schools are teaching true philosophy in the developmental years of children?

Outcome based educational models. Children are not graded on knowledge, but how well they conform to the desired outcome. Soviet Union education system.

This is why people are disconnected from spirituality, also why people grow up wanting to control others. Left brain prison breeds controllers.

People are overworked in the left brain through rituals, eating, working office jobs, driving, etc. Then they go home and want to engage the right brain with some audio visual media and waiting for them is the propaganda. Accept this, be subservient, obey. Take this as truth.

The color blue is a frequency geared to put someone in the right brain. The passive, feminine, cool, comfortable color induces a state of gullibility.

Imagine a corporation. CEO. A couple vice presidents. Then you have senior managers. Then you have the lower part of the hierarchy.

Hierarchy of chain of command in military, school, bank hospital, large corporation, etc.

Star Wars allegory: Empire side, controllers. Storm troopers are all clones. Left brain controllers manipulate through mind control.

The right to own another person or their mind does not exist. It can only be claimed and believed.

Fear is an illusion. It can never create anything good, it can only create chaos.

Controllers want their "New World Order" but it's nothing of the kind. We should call it New World Chaos. There is no order through control.

So many people are choosing actions they do not have the right to take, because they are deceived and ignorant. They don't have the intellectual capacity to understand that what they're doing is morally wrong. Just like the Nazis in WWII under the 3rd Reich of Hitler, Goebbels. They were told they had the right to do those things.

Check out the documentary Occult History of the Third Reich.

Nazi police state regime of America is here. Brought to you by ignoramuses, left brain prisoners.

Look at the brain scans of some people who grew up eating a Western diet, who have been indoctrinated into a completely western style education system, whose diet is terrible, filled with additives, preservatives, chemicals, high fat, high carb, high sugar, etc, fluoride in the water, pharmaceuticals, poison air. Combine that with watching media up to 6 hours daily. Look at their brain scans and it looks like swiss cheese. This is a physically proven phenomenon.

If you eat a clean diet, meditate daily, read books, stay active, your brain will be balanced. You're not a controller and you're not controlled either.

Prisoners of the left brain can't understand conceptual ideas - they can only deal with worldly materialistic identification - I am a cop, I am a soldier, not a being in consciousness, in creation, that has rights.

Man's laws don't have anything to do with rights. Man's law is an illusion, there is no true authority that creates it. Natural Law is not an illusion - it is existing and operating whether we recognize it or not.

Government is coercion - there's nothing voluntary about it. Its a group of people saying "we claim the authority to be able to make you do this or make you not do that." Man wants to be god.

The original spirit of this nation was supposed to be about respecting sovereignty under Natural Law principles. Sovereignty means self-rulership.

Re means of and public means people. Republic is of the people.

Once you give away any part of your responsibility as a sovereign being to re-representatives, you've abdicated responsibility. Representative government is based on control and based in fear, and therefore always will devolve into barbarity.

Cops and soldiers never have the right to violate another person by shutting down free speech or gathering. You have to be locked into a left brain only modality to believe you have authority over others.

You have owners. They look upon you less favorably than you look at the piece of meat you put on your table at night. They call the public their "dogs" and "the dead." They consider you spiritually, intellectually, and morally dead.

The way the rulers insulate themselves from the consequences of their actions under Natural Law is by getting other people to carry out their wishes. They are sorcerers.

WOEIH Podcast #10

We must understand the root causal factors of our suffering.

What creates our self inflicted suffering is our inability to tell truth from falsehood.

We are the co-creators of our reality, and until we change ourselves, the manifested reality isn't going to magically change on its own.

Unify the three aspects of our consciousness such that we are a being that as we think, so we feel, and so we act.

Look at the human brain - Left and Right are the two components of the higher brain, the neo cortex. The imbalance of the brain hemispheres - to the left or to the right - causes disruption in the limbic system.

Awaken the third eye, the pineal gland in the center of the brain, grants us access to spiritual insight and true wisdom. Combination the sacred masculine intellect with the sacred feminine intuition.

Universal forces: Love and Fear.

Love is the unique and divine expression of all that there is. Fear is the absence of love.

Internal manifestation of love: Self actualization. Sovereignty. Dominion. Self ownership. Thoughts, emotions, and actions aligned in a state of unity consciousness.

Outward manifestation: true freedom.

Internal manifestation of fear: confusion, internal opposition

External manifestation of fear: control, slavery

Solipsism and atheism go hand in hand - They believe in randomness, or chaos, cosmic accident, there is no purpose to existence.

Determinism and religious extremism go hand in hand. They believe that things are scripted by the creator and we're just acting it out.

The truth is somewhere in the middle. There is a random element called free will, as well as a deterministic component called Natural Law. AKA Karma, Moral Law, The Golden Rule.

People who think they will create order with control are delusional.

We are headed to a prison unless we all recognize our rights under Natural Law.

Mark is a messenger.

What are the blocks to getting to a higher consciousness? Why aren't more people doing this?

Natural Law is the only way to create peace and order in the world and nobody is doing it.

Mind control is extermination of the imagination.

Barriers to Self Realization:

5 Sense Illusion - Pure identification with matter in the physical world. Very left brain of seeing the world. Sees everything in terms of separateness and isolation. Not spiritual.

Ego Identification - Identification with the lower 's' self. Believing one is the role one plays in the world.

Prison of the Left Brain - Related to the indoctrination system (schools), focuses on Left Brain only functions: reading, writing, verbal skills, language, math, science. Logical, linear progression functions. Lack of true morals, ethics, understanding Rights from Wrongs. Sacred Feminine is left out or very downplayed.

Left brain responds to and becomes identified with hierarchy and things always being done the same way. Ritual, repetition, and expectations.

Getting in touch with imaginative capacity is the first step in creating change. If that gets shut down, the left brain prisoner is cut off from their imaginative potential, and can't see a life that's better for them.

This poisoned worldview is based in control in other people, and accepting control from the hierarchical chain of command.

The universe balances all situations. Karmic debt will be paid off. There is no breaking Natural Law principles, because the scales will eventually balance.

The force of division and internal opposition wants us to believe there is no objective truth. Solipsism is the most dangerous religion on the planet. It needs to be thoroughly renounced and rejected. There is such a thing as truth, it is up to us to discover it and live in harmony with its principles. It's there if we have the will to go forward and discover it.

Attachment to desire creates suffering.

"I want to be happy" well don't get overly attached to things .

"I want to be free" well don't create chaos by overly controlling things.

Most of the people out there are completely fooled. They don't have the ability to tell truth from falsehood, they bought lies from the cradle and stay attached to them. They insist there's no such thing as Natural Law, and don't bring free will in harmony with it. We say we don't lie our conditions yet so few are willing the totality of how this works. So few of us are willing to actually change, and so few of us are willing to explain this to others.

We are on the brink of total chaos, suffering, and domination. Heading headlong into a prison, that once we get ourselves into, would be very hard to get out for anyone coming after us.

People are so hung up on control - you have to do this because other people say so. It's the blind leading the blind leading the blind.

4th barrier to Self Realization: Belief and acceptance of Institutionalized belief systems:

People that follow institutionalized belief systems are all under mind control.

There is one overarching, fundamental belief that is the most widely shared institutionalized belief system - That money exists and is real. Money is a construct that exists only in the mind; it doesn't exist in nature.

Mind Control is the inability to use the imagination to envision change; the extermination of the imagination.

It is a toxic New Age belief to never focus on the negative. Ignoring negative things and letting them run their course empowers them. Learning about negative methodologies is to arm yourself against them. We use this information to empower ourselves and do positive things.

We are going to confront the shadow. Stare it in the eyes, look it down. Integrate and then heal the shadow.

Why is the same language used for: "being committed to an institution" as in supporting the police or the education system, and "being committed to an institution" as in being in a hospital that treats mental issues.

Words, as they have become to be constructed, are critical. There is magic in the language.

People are convinced that without their institutional belief systems, there would be chaos and ruin.

Mind control.

Secret societies and occult orders

High level initiates hoard knowledge and keep it locked away from the public. Should knowledge be secret? Nobody owns knowledge; it belongs to the universe. What knowledge is for the public is not for you to decide.

Mark is a de-occultist to serve truth, not himself or even humanity. He's a facilitator of information. He's not your guru, spiritual advisor, teacher, healer... You're that to yourself.

Money

Money is a mental construct that requires faith to operate.

Occultists invented money.

Money = one eye. mon(o) ey(e). All seeing eye on the back of the dollar bill confirms this.

Money is a proxy for the real illumination. You have a dollar in lieu of consciousness, awakening, balance.

The one eye represents the ability to see with spiritual sight.

Education system

Indoctrination system.

Higher learning can not be achieved when working within an institutionalized belief system.

Teachers will defend the system that causes harm because they identify with a particular aspect of the system.

The journey to higher consciousness is a long mountainous journey. Are you going to the peak or are you pitching a tent at the base? Uninitiated means "haven't started."

Government

Once you allow yourself to be represented by anyone else but yourself, you are owned and controlled. You've given up responsibility and your internal power to make decisions upon which your behaviors on how you're going to live your life with natural law principles. You're throwing away something nature handed you as a gift, and that's going to create chaos. All representative government eventually devolve into barbarity and tyranny and ours is no exception. We don't have time to be crying in our beer. We need to snap out of these mind control states. Prepare yourself mentally, psychologically, and spiritually.

We think we can create change by voting in the right people. That's like doing something over and over again with the same result expecting something different.

If you believe there needs to be government to control people's actions, and that the only way to create order is through control, you are under mind control.

Organized Religion

Not talking about the deeper spiritual principles, but the institutions surrounding them.

Christianity has been co-opted by a dark priest class that defends pedophilia and keeps the masses in darkness.

Judaism has been co-opted by an elite class.

Police/Military

All police, military, and their supporters are under mind control.

Government, Religion, Military, and Police are the most powerful mind controlling institutions on the planet because of their deep hold on the human mind. They are responsible for destroying the consciousness of the planet. These are the institutions that will be responsible for the destruction of the human species if we don't reverse our course.

We can't keep doing the things we're doing and expect different results. There is no better demonstration of Natural Law, either, because you can and must act to create change in the world.

Be here now.
